

Terry Equipment's New Corporate Headquarters in Bloomington, CA

Staff -- California Builder and Engineer, 5/19/2008

Bloomington, Calif.— On January 1, 2008, Terry Equipment Inc. opened a new corporate headquarters in Bloomington, California. The new location is a 20,000-square-foot concrete building situated on 2.5 acres. The move comes in effort to better service its customers with a larger area for service and an increased storage area for parts distribution. They also have an additional facility in Sacramento, California. Terry Equipment Inc. is currently a distributor for GOMACO, BOMAG and Roadtec. Terry Equipment Inc. currently services contractors and municipalities in California, Northern Nevada and Hawaii.
